ESSAY: MY AIM IN LIFE.

Everybody has one ambition or the other. Different people have different aims and ambitions depending upon their taste. One who dreams of leading an active life would become a soldier or a sailor. One who wants to make a wealth would set up some business or factory. I have no desire to be wealthy so I do not want to be a businessman.

Which is the profession I want to adopt then?

I want to become a doctor. A doctor is one of the most important servants of society. He helps people to lead a healthy and normal life. He checks and cures patients. Beside serving his countrymen, a doctor earns enough to lead a comfortable life. All these considerations induce me to choose the medical profession as future career.

THE HARE AND THE TORTOISE.

There lived a hare in the thick bush. A slow paced tortoise also lived nearby. The hare was proud of his speed. He made fun of the tortoise - He challenged him to run a race with him. The tortoise accepted the challenge. Both of them decided to fix a winning post. After doing so, they started the race. The hare ran very fast. The hare ran and went a mile and sat down for rest. He fell asleep.
The tortoise went on slowly and reached the winning post in time. The hare woke up and ran fast. When he reached the winning post, he found the tortoise sitting there. The hare lost the race. He was ashamed of himself.

MORAL : Slow and steady wins the race.
