LESSON No: 12.Topic: HOW RABBIT BECAME REAL.

Q1. Why did the other toys not pay much attention to the Rabbit?

Ans. The other toys ignored the Rabbit because it was only made of velveteen and some of the other toys were more expensive than it.

Q2. Who was the Rocking Horse and what made him so wise?

Ans. The Rocking horse was the Boy's uncle's toy. He was wise because he saw many toys come and go and he knew that they were only toys and would never turn into anything else.

QNo3. What did Rocking horse tell Rabbit about becoming real? Write in your own words.

Ans. The Rocking horse told the Rabbit that real wasn't how a toy was made. It was a thing that happened to a toy. When a child really loves a toy for a long time and not just for play, then a toy turns real.

QNo4. How and why did Nana bring Boy and rabbit together again?

Ans. One evening, when the Boy was going to bed, he was unable to find the toy dog that always slept with him. Nana was in a hurry, so she picked up the nearest toy instead of hunting for the dog. This was how Nana brought the Boy and the rabbit together.

QNo5. Describe how Boy and rabbit's friendship grew and deepened?

Ans. After the night when Nana put the velvet rabbit and the boy together, they became inseparable. The boy used to talk to him,

LETTER TO YOUR FRIEND ON HIS/HER FATHER'S DEATH.

Raj Bagh

Srinagar

28 August 2014

Dear friend,

I have just heard about the sad and untimely death of your father. Words are too weak to express grief at this time. Your father's death has come to me as a personal loss. He was indeed a gentleman and loved me as his son.

I offer heartfelt sympathy in your sorrow. May God grant everlasting peace to the departed soul and give you strength to bear the irreparable loss.

With deepest sympathy

Your loving friend

ABC

STORY : THE FOX AND THE CRANE.

A fox and a crane lived in a forest. One day the fox wanted to make fun of the crane. So he invited it to a dinner. But he served the soup in a flat dish. The crane with its long beak could eat nothing while the fox himself licked the dish clean. The crane arrived hungry. It felt insulted and wanted to take revenge from the fox.

After a few days the crane invited the fox to dinner. He served the soup in a jar with a long narrow neck. The fox could eat nothing. He kept licking only the outside of the jar, while the crane enjoyed the soup.

MORAL : TIT FOR TAT.

ESSAY : WINTER IN KASHMIR.

There is a long winter in Kashmir. It is very cold throughout. The sun often remains hidden behind clouds, fog or mist. In winter the valley presents a deserted look. Government offices shift to Jammu.

In winter the sky remains overcast with clouds. Often snowflakes accompany the rains. The snowflakes pile up heaps of snow everywhere. The streets, markets, roofs, fields and gardens are covered with snow.

Snowfall gives a lot of enjoyment to young children. They run about in great excitement and play with snowballs.

In winter people mostly prefer to stay at home. They invite their friends for tea and enjoy their company. While as people from other states visit Kashmir just to enjoy the snow. Kashmir is known in world for its beauty.
